WASERSTEIN & NUNEZ, PLLC

Deal Makers to Problem Solvers: How Wasserstein & Nunez Will Be There For Your Company From Beginning to End

A life without a healthy amount of calculated and controlled risks is, in our view, hardly a life at all. Daring entrepreneurs, who deeply believe in their company and its purpose, especially appreciate the challenges and opportunities encountered during the rise to the top. During this pursuit, there is always the looming possibility of encountering legal issues. That's where Wasserstein & Nunez, PLLC steps in.

Unlike other firms, we are able to efficiently come up with creative, out-of-the-box solutions to legal issues. How do we accomplish this? We start by providing personalized service in which we work thoroughly to understand your situation and goals. To provide a more comprehensive glimpse at our practice and how we operate, we have put together this free resource that describes our general approach to a number of legal matters.

Who Do We Represent?

To put it broadly, Wasserstein & Nunez, PLLC represents anyone in the world who has a legal issue they need resolved. That isn't hyperbole, either; we have extensive experience representing clients in the U.S., Central America, South America, Europe, and the Middle East.

Additionally, we are no strangers to helping clients with a net worth of $1 billion (or more).

Overall, we represent families and varied interests across the spectrum. If you have a real-world problem, we can help you arrive at a real-world solution. Our firm has experience representing:

- Inventors and innovators
- Corporations and international businesses
- Individuals with international tax considerations
- Business executives accused of white-collar crimes
- Real estate professionals
- Families with a considerable amount of wealth
- Construction project owners and developers
- Prospective immigrants to the U.S.
- Taxpayers entangled in disputes with the IRS
- Entrepreneurs attempting to recover stolen assets
- Spouses going through a complex divorce

The Negotiators

Our firm knows that the first step in negotiating a joint venture, partnership, or any other business venture, deal, or transaction is doing your homework. A fatal error committed by many negotiators is starting the talks without a fundamental understanding of the issues at hand. Above all, we reject the inclination to instinctively or impulsively negotiate.

Elemental in negotiations is the truth that, despite your best efforts, you will not get everything you want. However, that does not mean you should give in to the other side at every turn. We can maximize the leverage you have while not closing the door on any avenues to bring about an efficient closing to any deal. Overall, our attorneys are well-equipped (and not afraid) to negotiate a settlement that does not sacrifice the items and terms that are important to you.

The Litigators

Litigation is never the first thing on any business owner's, parent's, or other individual's mind. Depending on your occupation, net worth, and overall circumstances, though, you might have an elevated risk of seeing the inside of a courtroom at some point. From aggressively representing you and your interests during your divorce to defending you in federal court for several white collar charges and state court for possession of a controlled substance, the team at Wasserstein & Nunez, PLLC is prepared to work tirelessly to understand your case and defend you from any broadsides and attacks.

Technology has brought the citizens of the world closer together in the last few decades, and our world economy is more globalized than ever before. As a result, there is a larger demand in the 2020s for attorneys who understand laws governing business transactions from all over the globe. If this describes your situation, Wasserstein & Nunez, PLLC is the firm to help you resolve your dispute. Our attorneys are licensed to litigate in many different venues; more importantly, we have experience in these venues.

Despite our adroitness in handling complex and high-stakes civil and criminal litigation, we are not so short-sighted to believe that litigation is the only option for those in a legal dispute. Occasionally, litigation actually is your best option, but our team wants to make sure that is the case before going all-in regarding litigation.

The Problem Solvers

What we have noticed here at Waserstein & Nunez, PLLC is that so many contemporary firms narrow their focus into one or two specific areas of law; as a result, they are not able to provide effective and knowledgeable guidance to clients when peripheral or secondary legal issues crop up. What makes us different is that we have deep knowledge and experience in numerous areas of the law. We have purposely chosen attorneys with varied backgrounds and education so that, for example, if you need to understand the tax implications of creating an international trust, we have you covered.

Above all, our deep experience and knowledge lend themselves to our firm's track record of solving problems. The vigor and fortitude of your business's contracts go a long way toward preventing future legal disputes. That's why, when you are starting your business or initiating the M&A process, you need a firm like Waserstein & Nunez, PLLC who is not afraid to negotiate a good deal.

Sometimes, however, solving a problem means going to trial. Attorney Carlos A. Nuñez is recognized as having exceptional prowess as a trial lawyer. However, anyone in our firm is well-suited to provide you with an unrelenting legal presence in court that can help get you where you want to go. When you have one firm handling your legal needs from soup to nuts, you get continuity and, ultimately, a meaningful relationship with your law firm. That's what makes Waserstein & Nunez, PLLC stand out from the rest of the pack – meaningful, long-lasting relationships.
